ORIANA CURLS

'YOU'RE THE FRENCH
BETTE MIDLER!'

Born and raised in France with multicultural roots, Oriana has since made the UK her home, building an international career as a performer. With her jazz band, she has graced iconic venues including the Royal Albert Hall, Wembley Stadium, the Eiffel Tower, the Carlton Hotel in Cannes, and prestigious stages across the Middle East.

In 2020, her album 'Because I'm French' earned recognition as a Grammy Award contender, with her original song 'Comme des Vieux' making waves in the U.S. after being featured on a popular E! Network show. Her growing presence led to multiple television appearances, including serving as a judge on BBC One's hit series 'All Together Now' alongside Geri Halliwell and Rob Beckett, performing violin on 'The X Factor', and singing on Channel 4's Joe Lycett's Got Your Back. Primarily celebrated for her work in jazz and cabaret, Oriana received a five-star review for her show 'Piaf Remembered' at the Edinburgh Festival. She has also been a prominent figure in London's cabaret scene, hosting acclaimed productions such as 'The Black Cat Cabaret' and 'Ooh La La'.

Most recently, she began producing her own show, 'Le Petit Cabaret of Oriana Curls', which premiered in London's West End.
